Water is PRICELESS.

Axor sees itself as an ambassador for the union of people, space and water. In this spirit, we and our designers create unique design objects that help to make the bathroom a very special place.

Having many different perspectives ...

From the very beginning, Axor has developed collections and products based on a single overriding vision: to see bathrooms through the eyes of the world's best designers and architects. Their view of the world, their philosophy, their cultural background and their creativity – all of this should form the basis for the collections. Axor works in collaboration with some of the most creative minds of our time developing their ideas into a beautiful and functional reality.

*... allows you to see so much more.

This is why Axor takes its own unique approach to developing its products, cooperating with design partners who fuse modern concepts with timeless aesthetics. The starting point is often the Axor WaterDream, a joint project with designers which – much in the same way as a concept car in the motor industry – seeks out innovative solutions for the bathroom of the future.

Behind the seemingly abundant spray of Axor Massaud lies a sophisticated water-saving technology.

The shape of the mixer evolves throughout an intensive design process – and with it the design of the water that flows from it. The abundant water spray from the Axor Massaud mixer conceal engineering skill of the highest order. The water specialists explore every avenue until function and design form a harmonious whole. In many cases, an innovative construction of the inner workings is required in order for the stream to retain its unique aesthetic while saving water at the same time.

Axor Starck

The aesthetics of minimalism

An enduring bathroom collection that will survive the whims of fashion. Like an ancient well, Axor Starck draws water from the depths below. Creating a bathroom that exudes peace and relaxation. The Axor Starck collection focuses on the basics: the pure pleasure of water. The reduction principle is reflected in its purist forms and clear functions, with nothing to distract the eye.

Further Axor Starck products and information can be found on our website.

The Axor Starck X mixer takes minimalism to the max: the square plate appears to float weightlessly, releasing water in the form of a flood spray.

Axor Starck stands out through its consistently geometric forms: be it the two-handle mixer, the three-hole wall-mounted basin mixer or the matching accessories.

With its diagonal spout, the archetypal single lever mixer bears a close resemblance to a water pump. The purist design is free of all clutter.

The shower set with hand shower focuses on the basics - functionality with no distractions.

The aesthetics of reduction: the clear, timeless shower column looms majestically.

Axor Starck V

Vitality of Water

Axor has always been driven by a boundless curiosity and a passion for water. The pure energy of a vortex never fails to impress. How can the essence of this spectacle of nature be transported to the wash basin? Axor Starck V brings the full force of nature to the fore with an organically sculptural glass mixer. The glass body allows the elegant vortex to be seen in all its glory. If no water is running, the crystal glass mixer becomes a well in everyday life.

With its various options, Axor Starck V lends the bathroom a sense of individuality. For instance, its porcelain and glass spouts help to create a simple yet modern elegance. The timeless look is further accentuated when combined with white or chrome bases. In order to fit into classic ambiances, Axor Starck V comes with fine diamond or bevel cuts and with bases in gold optic or rose gold, which are produced exclusively in Axor Manufaktur.

Axor Bouroullec

Everything flows

Axor Bouroullec is the epitome of restraint and is held in particularly high esteem by minimalists. The organically minimalist design remains low key at all times. The products blend harmoniously with any style. Additional space is offered by the gently shaped shelves that are integrated in the wash basin, shower and bathtub products.

The freedom to design freely:

The minimalist design with the tapering spout can be seen in the wall-mounted version and the standing mixer for wash bowls.

Ample room for toiletries:

Thanks to the space-saving shelves or the integrated shelf area on the Showerpipe.

Two shelf areas on the bathtub allow users to choose for themselves where to position the mixer elements.

Axor Uno²

Further Axor Uno² products and information can be found on our website.

The classic minimalist

At the heart of the unobtrusive style of the Axor Uno² mixer collection is a clear geometric design founded on simple, cylindrical basic shapes. This allows it to blend in with any bathroom ambience.

Timeless modern shapes and the striking bow-shaped handle are just the thing for anyone who appreciates linear design.

Axor Carlton

A homage to the golden 20s

With its sweeping shapes, Axor Carlton is reminiscent of the days of the glamorous grand hotels of the 1920s. The opulent handle options are particularly striking. A nostalgic collection that will outlive any trend.

Further Axor Carlton products and information can be found on our website.

In the shower, classic design meets the modern comfort of a thermostat: traditional lever handles, stylish cross handles and the curved arm of the overhead shower combine to create a nostalgic effect. Also characteristic are the little porcelain plates bearing the traditional "H" and "C".

Axor Montreux

Time recaptured

Axor Montreux draws its inspiration from the well-known spa resort on Lake Geneva. The traditional bathroom collection takes us back to the early 20th century and recaptures the spirit of the Belle Époque with its romantic spas.

Further Axor Montreux products and information can be found on our website.

The authenticity of the classic design stems above all from the typical cross handles with their fine porcelain plates.

With loving attention to detail, the mixers recreate the traditional industrial design on the outside, concealing the state-of-the-art technology on the inside. The bath mixer revisits the style of its predecessor from the industrial era - a case in point being the porcelain handles on its hand shower.

A bathroom design that whisks you away to another time.

Axor ShowerSolutions

Axor ShowerSolutions open up an exclusive shower experience: here, the aesthetics of outstanding design meet sophisticated technology, which takes showering into a whole new dimension. Additional shower comfort also comes in the form of Select technology, which allows the showers to be operated easily at the touch of a button. There is a fascinating diversity in the products of different designs and sizes. They can all be combined perfectly with other Axor collections and programmes.

Axor ShowerCollection

Haute couture for the shower: with the Axor ShowerCollection designed by Philippe Starck, any shower can be transformed into a personal spa. A system of showers, mixers and accessories in a geometric and minimalist design offers virtually endless possibilities for design freedom. The individual, coordinated modules can be mixed and matched at will – be it in horizontal or vertical rows or according to aesthetic or functional concepts.

With its three different spray modes, the Axor ShowerHeaven overhead shower is a byword for luxurious showering and comes in two different sizes and either with or without lighting.

Bodyzone: the entire body is enveloped with a pleasant shower rain.

Central rain zone with AirPower function: the drops are enriched with air, creating a concentrated yet gentle shower rain.

Laminar jet: the clear single jet is powerful and invigorating.

The combination of all spray modes creates the ultimate shower experience.

Everything fits together: the shower modules can be used as overhead, neck or side showers. Convenient modules enhance the showering experience - from lighting to loudspeakers to shelf options.

The shower modules are also available in a softcube design.

The waterfall spout is both a shelf area and a small spa. On the bathtub it is used for filling, in the shower the revitalising flood spray can be used for massaging the neck.

Axor One

Monoliths exude a majestic peacefulness, removing all but the bare necessities, so that the minimalist unique specimen leaves behind a reduced impression. Adopting this archaic form, Axor One represents a monolith in the shower. All elements are subjected to a strict code of simplicity, with all functions reduced to a central control element. Flat surfaces, gently rounded corners, generous proportions - Axor One is a confident statement that brings a spacious feeling into the shower, making it a haven of tranquillity.

Given the clear design language, Axor One is of course easy and intuitive to use. All that is needed to activate the various showers is a gentle tapping of the paddles with the finger, the back of the hand or even the elbow. Up to three different showers can be activated at the same time. This is thanks to Select technology, which focuses on tapping rather than turning. The symbol on each paddle indicates clearly which shower it controls.

One tap: a gentle tap on the paddles is all that is needed to control the required shower jet.

One turn: the temperature can be controlled precisely by the cylindrical handle and limited by the temperature lock.

One slide: sliding the small lever allows you to deliberately reduce the amount of water you use by up to 50%.

Axor ShowerSelect

A small button makes a great difference – and makes showering simpler and more convenient. Thanks to Select technology, the shower is now operated at the touch of a button. Tapping is the new turning: the various showers – such as the hand and overhead showers – are controlled intuitively using the select buttons. The Axor ShowerSelect thermostats boast elegant black select buttons with white symbols indicating which shower jet has been selected.

The clear and minimalist design of Axor ShowerSelect thermostats means that they can be used extensively and matched with many other products. At the same time, they add a note of elegance and premium quality to the shower. The thermostats come in a number of varieties: for one to four different showers or one bath spout.

Thermostat for concealed installation for 1 shower

Thermostat for concealed installation for 2 showers

Thermostat for concealed installation for 3 showers

The various escutcheon forms – “square”, “soft” and “round” – offer great scope for combining them with many different Axor collections.

Further Axor ShowerSelect products and information can be found on our website.

Axor Shower systems

Although we only actually need 30 seconds in the shower to get clean, the simple fact is: the longer we shower, the better we feel. Axor shower systems combine exclusive aesthetics with exceptional comfort. From the simple showerpipe to the shower column, it has all you need for the ultimate feel-good shower experience. Such as the Axor Showerpipe designed by Front, where state-of-the-art technology is packaged in a thoroughly appealing design.

The Axor Urquiola shower column seems to grow like a plant, with the asymmetrically arranged handles, shelf and overhead shower looking like small branches. The integrated shelf means that there is plenty of room for toiletries.

With three different spray modes, the Axor Citterio M showerpipe offers a wide range of shower options.

The Axor Starck shower column has a unique optical effect: it looks as if the water is coming directly out of the ground.

The Axor Starck Waterwall integrates all important shower elements elegantly: mixers and shelves, plate shower head and side showers.

Further Axor ShowerSolutions and information can be found on our website.

Axor Overhead Showers

The sheer variety of the Axor overhead showers can be seen in their design, size, function and application. Whether round or square, massage spray or refreshing flood spray, soft or normal, wide or concentrated - the suitable overhead showers can be mounted on the wall or ceiling and are available with various spray modes. Axor LampShower designed by Nendo is a prime example: it does away with the usual borders between spaces as if by magic and lends a homely character into the bathroom.

With its authentic, traditional design, the Axor Carlton plate shower head fits harmoniously in traditional ambiances and creates a stimulating contrast in modern ones.

Available in two sizes - as either a ceiling- or wall-mounted version - the Axor Starck plate shower head adds a touch of minimalism to the shower.

Axor ShowerProducts designed by Front: Industrial charm for the shower. In an exceptionally elegant form. We can see water routes in a whole new light, while a funnel becomes a well-proportioned overhead shower.

With its geometric and minimalist design, the Axor Starck overhead shower is an especially refined choice for the shower.

The ball joint allows the spray from the Axor Citterio overhead shower to be positioned perfectly to massage your back or neck - with a choice of three different spray modes.

Further Axor overhead showers and information can be found on our website.

Axor Shower sets and hand showers

Axor shower sets and hand showers make showering an even more comfortable experience. They are available in a variety of sizes and spray modes, which users can change easily by turning or tapping them. Not only that, with the right shower rail, the hand shower can be adjusted to the ideal height. A wide range of designers have left their mark, ensuring a unique look. For instance, the shower set designed by Front sets effortless accents in the shower. The pipes, sockets and valves - as were once commonplace in factories - are now used as design objects, bringing a touch of industrial charm to the bathroom.

The elegant, minimalist hand shower sets itself apart through its form, its concentrated sprays and its innovative rotary operation.

With its authentic handle and traditional look, the hand shower belonging to the Axor Montreux shower set sits perfectly with classical styles.

Axor Citterio E: With the elegant shower set and its double rail, the ergonomic and smooth-moving slider helps to adjust the shower to the required height.

Further Axor shower sets and hand showers can be found on our website together with further information.

Axor Wash basins

In addition to high-quality mixers, Axor produces wash basins in a variety of exotic designs such as wash bowls, built-in and wall-mounted wash basins. These came about while developing the respective Axor collections and can be combined with the mixers of the various bathroom collections.

With its integrated grab rails, the Axor Urquiola wash basin creates an appealingly nostalgic impression.

With their flowing forms, the shelves integrated in the Axor Bouroullec wash basins provide additional space for toiletries.

The round form of the Axor Urquiola wash bowl calls to mind those of times past.

The Axor Massaud wash bowl exudes organic naturalness - either as a built-in or counter-top version.

Further Axor wash basins and information can be found on our website.

Axor Bathtubs

An exceptional design idiom gives every bathtub an individual aesthetic and makes it the highlight of any bathroom - whether it is free-standing, built-in or wall-mounted. Different styles and materials - in combination with mixers from Axor collections - allow you to create your own individual design.

The archetypal shape of the free-standing, mineral-cast Axor Urquiola bathtub is reminiscent of old-style washtubs.

The striking design of the Axor Citterio bathtub is founded on restraint, clarity and Italian elegance.

The Axor Bouroullec built-in bathtub has two shelves, allowing you to decide for yourself where to position the mixers.

The free-standing Axor Massaud bathtub draws its inspiration from nature, giving you the feeling of diving into a lake.

Further information can be found on our website.

Axor Electronics

Axor electronic mixers are an elegant marriage of functionality and technology with exclusive design. The innovative sensor technology is integrated so discreetly that the mixer design can be reduced to the basics. Apart from this, the non-contact operation makes the mixers not only extremely hygienic but also economical: this is because the intelligent electronics only release water when it is actually needed, thereby helping to sustain this natural resource. For instance, the special design of the Axor Citterio electronic mixer makes its mark in high-class surroundings.

The minimalist Axor Uno² wall-mounted basin mixer as an electronic variant. With a sensor field on the bottom of the spout.

The electronic variant of the square Axor Starck X mixer has an almost sculptural look as well and is available either with or without temperature control.

With its organic, minimalist design, the Axor Starck Organic electronic mixer is especially effective at saving water: the voluminous mixer shower spray uses just 3.5 l/min. The mixer is available either with or without temperature control.

Also reduced to the basics is the electronic variant of the purist Axor Starck basin mixer, which is available either with or without temperature control.

Adapting lengths

Is the spout too long? Or the shower arm too short? Or you prefer to have an exclusive unique specimen? A bathroom product must be perfect in every regard. For instance, it can be shortened or lengthened to fit the exact dimensions of the bathroom in question. The length adaption service offered by Axor Manufaktur adds an element of freedom to designing your individual bathroom – as well as fulfilling original requests.

For instance, you might need the ceiling connection for the overhead shower to be lengthened in order for the shower to be positioned at optimum height even in higher rooms.

The bath spout can be lengthened in such a way that it bridges gaps perfectly – e.g. the gap created by a brick-built shelf between the wall and the bathtub.

By lengthening a basin mixer, for example, it can be turned into a wholly individual floor-standing product.

The Jane, Antwerp/Belgium: Modern elements and the luster of old churches come together in the new gourmet restaurant in Antwerp. In the former chapel, Dutch interior designer Piet Boon created an aesthetic marriage of art and cuisine: the high-end character of the restaurant is accentuated by the historic floor mosaic with the striking glass cube that houses the show kitchen featuring star cooks Sergio Herman and Nick Brill. Elegant in finish and purist in form, the Axor mixers – in the modern special surface of brushed black chrome – make a key contribution to the state-of-the-art design of the restaurant.

- Collections: Axor Uno² electronic wall-mounted basin mixer and Axor Citterio SemiPro kitchen mixer in brushed black chrome, with a special finish added in the Axor Manufaktur

Spa in the Four Seasons Hotel, Milan/Italy: The 5-star hotel's luxury spa is steeped in Roman bath culture: the historic vaulted cellar of a 15th century monastery is preserved in all its original glory, complete with pillars, arches and brick ceilings. On an area measuring 800 square metres, you can relax and while away the time in a generously proportioned pool and neighbouring quiet zone. The Axor mixers were finished in elaborate brushed gold-optic and fit perfectly with the sensual luxury of the spa.

Porta Nuova Residence, Milan/Italy: The urban large-scale project in a former industrial wasteland informs the Milan skyline with its sky-scraping towers. A new quarter, comprising both a residential and commercial area, was built on a total area of 290,000 m². The residential towers – Aria, Solaria and Solea – not only offer a breath-taking view from the cathedral to the Alps, but their room concept also exudes a timeless style of living. With their outstanding design quality, Axor bathroom fittings complete the exclusive bathrooms in four different styles.
